

Dear Parent or Guardian,

The Cyclotron Institute on the campus of Texas A&M University offers tours of its accelerators and experimental facilities. Although the Cyclotron Institute contains radiation-producing devices and radioactive materials, the facility is constructed to minimize the radiation exposure for permanent staff and visitors. Tours will only visit areas that have safe levels of radiation. In addition, tours will be guided by trained staff, and visitors will not be allowed to deviate from the tour path.

By signing this form, I consent that my child can participate in such a tour.
